

Tip 2 - Another source of SDOC / COC / Class A.

If you are collecting SDOC / COC / IPC-1752A Class A declarations consider using the company web pages, catalog, or specification sheets where they state "RoHS Compliant". These sources are more heavily scrutinized before being published than the declaration email you are currently accepting. Remember to also capture the identification of the source of the declaration, the date indicated or today's date when you do this, and save this information with the declaration.

Also update your team practices to add this as an acceptable source for the Class A declaration.
